Aster what has been advanced, there can remain no doubt but the revenue sulains great loss from all-thc!e causes: not only from fraudi jiractised, but from the difference os collecting the duty at the different works, and which, hold as the assertion may appear, 1 assert a second time, to be no less than ioo. oool. per annum. o. BOOKS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE. Art. xvttl. Dramas for tke Use of Young Ladies. i2mo. 17R pa. Price 3s. bound. Birmingham, Swinney and Co. ; London, Robinsons. 1792. These dramas arc modestly offered to the public merely as exercises for young ladies, to improve them in the art of speaking with grace and propriety. Fur tins purpose they are certainly very well adapted; the characters being all female, and the dialogues being drawn up with great correctness, and with sufficient animation to render them interesting, without rising to such vehemence of passion, as would require theatrical exertions beyond what might be expected, or is perhaps to be desired, from young ladies. But the pieces have a (till greater value, as lessons of prudence and morality. The firs!, entitled The Fortunate Disappointment, among other useful lessons, teaches tlie mischievous effect of artful concealment. The second, entitled Domestic. Woe, affords an instructive example of a common folly among young females; that of committing themselves to the confidential...
