P. Morrison as chairmen, reported to the association in 1907, 1908, and 1909. The first two reports presented arguments, both educational and economic, for the establishment of the six-year high school; the last one, after quoting from letters by prominent schoolmen who after more or less experience favored the organization, declared that the change to a six-six division is inevitable; it is now taking place in various ways to meet local conditions. The movement has had further impulse since then by the reports of the Committee on Economy of Time in Education and of the Commission on the Reorganization of Secondary Education. However strong the arguments for annexing two years to the high-school period, such a change could hardly be successful unless at the same time there were dissatisfaction with the work now generally done in the seventh...
